IN MAINE.

In Maine there are grand old mountains, whose peaks, looming against the sky, gather glowing crowns of mist-wreaths. While the morning clouds float by; And, when noon-tide's wondrous splendor sheds their wondrous light and height, The fanciful "hide-and-seek" whims, Of mountain shadows, and lights, We almost hear the voices Of Dame Nature's sylvan sprites.

And, when twilight's mystical purpling steals round, o'er the mountain-side, Like a beautiful veil, that Silence sends forth, in compassion, to hide Each lonely, mountain-tastiness— In calm and majestic pride— The sea-level, grassy, and olden Our mountains of Maine abide.

In Maine there are wonderful rivers That pass in a winding way— Their beautiful flower-dotted meadows And their silent woodlands stray, Bathing wildly o'er moss-draped boulders, Creeping silently thro' the plain; Searching everywhere for beauty— Seeking amidst the grain and again, While their countless sun-kissed, wavelets glitter, and seem to say: "We slide in harmonious measure, To gladden all hearts, each day!"

In Maine, there are lakes, broad and beautiful, With surfaces placid, that seem Like pure molten silver. Enchantment seems to dwell in their holier dream. When our lakes mirror pictures of landscape, Of forest, and cliff-top, and plain, What state can display grander scenery Than we find in dear "rock-ribbed old Maine?"

AMERICA THE BEAUTIFUL. O beautiful for spacious skies, for amber waves of grain, For purple majesties above the fruited plain! America! America! God shed His grace On thee, and crown thy good with brotherhood, From sea to shining sea!

Refrain America! America! God shed His grace On thee! O beautiful for pilgrim feet, whose stern impassioned stress A thoroughfare for freedom beat across the wilderness! America! America! God mend thine every flaw, Confirm thy soul in self-control, thy liberty in law!

O beautiful for heroes proved, in liberating wars, whose dust has won that priceless right, Who more than self their country loved, and mercy more than life! America! America! May God thy gold refine, Till all success be nobleness, and every gain divine!

O beautiful for patriot dream that sees beyond the years, Thine alabaster cities gleam undimmed by human tears, America! America! God shed His grace on thee, And crown thy good with brotherhood, from sea to shining sea!

THE WEATHER SPIRIT. A voice in the roaring pine wood, A voice in the breaking sea, A voice in the storied morning That will not let me be.

It is calling me to the forest, It is calling me to the strand, The Weather-spirit is calling me, To fare over sea and land.

Thy check with the rain is stinging, And thy hand is wet with spray, There is that within my bosom That will not let me stay.

Might in the pine wood tower, Might on the racing sea, The Weather-spirit, my erother, Is calling, calling to me.

A RAINBOW PARTY. "Come to our rainbow party," read invitations written upon blue paper with red ink. Upon their arrival the children were delighted with what they saw. The first thing that greeted them was a big rainbow of blue, yellow, red, pink and purple chesscloth stretched through two rooms. At the end of the gold. In the pot was the number 7 and a mysterious package. Colored ribbons led through the house, and each chose the ribbon he wished to follow. At the end of each ribbon was a little bag of bonbons. Attached to one string was the mystic number 7, emitting the finger to the contents of the treasure pot. A large cake showed pink, yellow, brown and white layers, with a delicate frosting of purple, making a rainbow effect. The ice-cream was pink, the sherbert yellow and the wafers for decorations were various colored asters.

Apple Maggot and its Control.

By G. A. YEATON, Orchard Demonstrator

The apple maggot or railroad worm is too well known by the orchardists of Maine to need any description. The control of this pest up to the present time has been considered a very doubtful proposition, for few, if any knew how to combat it. The fact that the little striped-winged fly appeared to exist without eating, and then laid its eggs under the skin of the growing apple, baffled all attempts at poisoning the pests.

Through the efforts and careful observation of Prof. James F. Hillingworth at Cornell University, Ithaca, N. Y., during 1911-1913, new and encouraging light has been thrown upon the method as best adapted to the control of this serious menace to our apple industry. The important points which he discovered are given very briefly in the following statements, and while the control may not be perfect under all season conditions, the suggestions are of immense importance.

This investigation and its results must bring encouragement to the orchardist who has the railroad worm in his fruit season after season.

The facts discovered by Prof. Hillingworth are that the flies of the railroad worm emerge from the ground about the middle of June to the first of August and a second brood may continue to emerge until frost comes. The eggs are laid about three weeks after the fly appears and most deposit as many as 400 eggs.

While maturing, which takes from 20 to 25 days, the fly eats from the surface of the leaves and fruit. The fly eats by moistening an area of the leaf surface with its own saliva and then sucks the juice dry.

If a poisoned film is spread over the surface of all foliage, and fruit, the fly will take in the poison with the food. A sweetened poison spray applied to the foliage appears to be a certain method of control.

A general spray may be applied to the entire orchard the latter part of June or the first week in July. As the fly is attracted by sweets the following material should be used:—

Cheap molasses..... 1 gal.
Arsenate of lead..... 3 lbs.
Water..... 40 gals.

This spray will take care of the brown tail caterpillars and the canker worm as well.

Tobacco, Like Food, Must Be Fresh To Be Good

And tobacco cannot keep fresh after it is cut up, any better than bread or meat can. To get fresh tobacco, you must cut it off the plug yourself, just before it goes into your pipe. That's the way you use Sickle tobacco—that's the reason it burns slowly, and always affords you a cool, sweet, satisfying smoke.

Tobacco that comes already cut-up, in packages, gets dry and stale—burns fast and hot, and bites your tongue. The original flavor and moisture cannot escape from the Sickle plug—they are pressed in and kept in by the natural leaf wrapper.

More tobacco—fresh tobacco—no package to pay for—no waste—that's Sickle tobacco. Get a plug at your dealer's today.

Grand Celebration.
The 4th of July celebration was a grand success. Everybody worked with a willingness that was surprising and pleasant to see, as though all had conspired together to bring out the perfectly harmonious affair that it was.

The streets and grounds were thronged with people and automobiles. Dinner was served in two halls to a thousand people. Supper was served at Grange Hall. Fifty or sixty gallons of ice cream were sold at the several booths and stores. The coronation band with the Turner, together making twenty pieces, rendered beautiful music during the day. Shaw's orchestra of South Paris furnished music for the dancing, afternoon and evening.

A good system of police were in attendance during the night before and the day. A few pranks were attempted but were stopped so that there were none of the usual jokes and pranks nor any drunkenness displayed.

There will be about $200 cleared from expenses for the benefit of the library for which the library officials and committee are very grateful, and to all who helped.

The ball game between West Paris and Bryant Pond was won by West Paris, 12 to 4.

The tug of war ball game between Paris and Woodstock, Summer and Greenwood, won.

Potato race, Russell Adams, $2.00; Ellsworth Curtis, $1.00.

Obstacle race, Roy Perham, $3.00. Harold Perham, $2.00.

Three legged race, Andrews and Hosmer, $3.00; Perham and Doughty, $2.00.

Pig on slippery pole over the river, won by Roscoe after much exercise.

Fat man's race, 200 pounds and over, Allan Cole, $2.00; Dana Dudley, $1.00.

M. S. Babbie, representing Uncle Sam with Columbia driving, filled with their children, carrying flags, took first prize, Ford car, $8.00.

Carlton P. Dunham, white wedding car, took second Ford prize, fog horn.

Fred Penley, other automobile, $8.00. Dr. Wheeler, second.

Best decorated team, Ellsworth Curtis, $3.00.

Worst looking team or float, Lorenzo and Iona Littlehale, $2.00.

Best local hit in parade, Allan Cole, $3.00.

The celebration of the glorious old Fourth of July was ushered in by young America, who were out in full force with snap crackers and other noisy fireworks, and with horns that made the night hideous with their noise. There was no sleep or rest for the older ones after 12 o'clock, midnight of the 4th. Postmaster Flavin did credit to himself as well as to West Paris in the beautiful and artistic decoration of his postoffice, with National flags with large portraits of Washington and Lincoln placed in conspicuous places in the center of the decoration. Mr. Flavin is entitled to much credit in getting up the program of the day.

The stores were all properly decorated with the American flag and the National emblems displayed on all the residents of our village.

At an early hour conveyances of all kinds, from the auto to the hayrack, loaded with young and old, until the number was estimated to be from 2,000 to 2,500 visitors in the place, and over 200 autos.

The parade, consisting of decorated automobiles and carriages, headed by the band under the command of R. L. Cummings on his spirited charger, as marshal of the parade, marched through the different streets to the amusement of the old as well as to the young. Dr. F. E. Wheeler's car was very interesting as it was crowded full of little children from four to six years of age, who were enjoying the occasion immensely.

Allan Cole won the best hit of the day, posing as an officer who had just seized a jug of contraband whiskey and offering to treat the crowd from his seizure. Prize, $5.00. The second prize was won by young Littlehale and his sister, who represented horse, harness, carriage and dress of "ye olden time."

The pig and the greased pole was the crowning sport of the day. A green pole some 20 feet long, 4 inches thick, with the bark peeled off, was extended out over the water to a sunken rack with platform built over the rack, and upon the platform was a pig in a box some 6 to 8 weeks old. The winner was to walk the pole, take the pig from the box, and turn safely to the shore without falling into the water. The competitors were few as everyone when part way over on the pole would invariably fall from the pole into the water, deep enough to require a good swimmer to get out. After several failures, a cry was set up for the champion of the committee, A. C. Perham, to walk the pole, and when seen by one of the committee, consented to try it, providing Herman Wardwell, a member of the committee, would try for the pig. This being agreed to, Mr. Perham took off his shoes and began the stocking foot started to walk the pole. This he succeeded in doing. Reaching the platform he takes the pig from the box and walks back over the pole with the pig in his hands, making the trip without wetting his feet. For this feat he received a great applause. After winning the pig, Mr. Perham puts it up for further competition. Now it came for Wardwell to try and this created a great shout of applause. The same as Perham, he simply removed his shoes and with his dress suit on, he started to walk the pole, and when about half way across he lost his balance and fell into the water, where he had to swim, to get out. This caused a great hurrah, and Wardwell did not seem inclined to give the great crowd another opportunity to laugh at his expense. After wards a young man, name of Doughty, walked the pole and took the pig and when within 8 feet of the shore, fell with the pig into the water, but Chairman A. C. Perham gave him the pig.

Dancing afternoon and evening. The fireworks were fine. The committee procured two halls with long tables, spread and furnished dinner and supper for 1,000 persons. Five bushels of beans and sixty pounds of pork was baked in the ground by an expert, O. C. Ellingwood.

The day being fair, brought a large crowd, and every one seemed to enjoy the day. Not an accident or one case of drunkenness occurred to mar the sports of the day.

A. C. Perham, T. R. Flavin, C. H. Lane, Jr., and Ed. Mainville, all entitled to great credit and the thanks of this community for their efforts and success in getting up and giving West Paris and vicinity one of the best Fourth of July celebrations we ever experienced.

Evening Grange Meeting.

At the last meeting of the Grange it was decided to hold the next three regular meetings in the evening on account of the busy season and the farmers being unable to attend Saturday afternoons. This plan was tried last year and was quite successful.

This week Saturday evening degree work is to be expected and the plan of entertainment is as follows:

Roll call, Comfort suggestions for July days Essay, A well ordered household. Question for discussion, What can this Grange do for the good of our country and mankind. Music will be in charge of Mrs. Groven. At the last meeting the question on vegetable canning was thoroughly and interestingly discussed by the ladies present. There were only four men present but they all took part and made their question of interest on the profitableness of taking a holiday now and then.

Katie G. Nelson, a missionary of the Bible Society of Maine, is canvassing here this week. She will sell Bibles at cost and the poor will be supplied without cost when necessary. This canvass is taken up about once in seven years.

There is to be a benefit entertainment next week for the benefit of E. E. Tubbs' family. Particulars will be given later. Hope all will remember the Golden Rule.

Much sympathy goes out to Mr. and Mrs. Sawyer; also to the only sister, Lottie, who was also a graduate of class 1914, Oxford High school.

operate this enterprise. Many of the ideas advanced by Mr. Whitehead are original and no doubt in a measure

Uncle Sam says:—"We didn't mean to do any bragging this season, but vines we feel like challenging 'the world

Mrs. F. A. Danforth has made and 650 lbs. of butter, netting on an average 25 cents per lb., besides selling 8 gallons of milk per day. Mr. Danforth keeps eleven cows and has not been feeding since they went to pasture.

Last Sunday was a very orderly and quiet day. We cannot say whether it was on account of the proposed enforcement of the Sunday laws or not, but it was very quiet in the streets. Perhaps those who leave about the shops and drive upon the streets were at the Lake doing picket duty or maybe fishing.

There were a good many near the Lake and some were out in boats but we have yet to learn of any fish being caught.
Several parties camped on the shore of the Lake over the Sabbath and Monday
p. m. the fish and fishermen began to come into the village.

Lakeside Farm.
H. S. Wade at Lakeside Farm says he is not running a farm but an inn for en-tirement of guests. His experience is that farming on our rocky hills doesn't pay. The farmhouse, with its broad verandas, cool shade and magnificent view of the White Mountains and the surrounding country, does make an ideal place to spend the summer.

The first guests at Lakeside for the summer were Mr. and Mrs. J. Dardouville, who arrived last Friday. Mr. Dar-doville is a large dealer in high class lamps, of 611 Fifth Ave., N. Y.

Mr. Wade told how in the thunder storm of a fortnight ago the lightning came into the house, went under the sink and punched holes like a rifle bullet in a row of pots and pans. Then it went up stairs, fused the ring in the bathtub chain and made a dent in the enamel.
After that it went down cellar and punched a hole in the brick wall.

Mrs. Ella Cousins visited her sister, Mrs. Orin Stone, one day last week.

Maryetta Nichols, who has been attending school at Hallowell, has joined her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Nichols of

LEE MIXER'S BOOK.

The above inscription is written on a dy-leaf of a leather covered book shown us by Prof. Geo. C. Leavitt. His grandfather was owner of the book and wrote his name in it Oct. 10th, 1827. The book was printed in Norway, Me., for the author by Asa Barton, that year.

Its title is:—
An apology for Believing in Uniosal Reconciliation; or an old appeal from the Inferior Court of Skepticism, Superstition, Ignorance and Unbelief, to the Supreme Court of Proper Candor, Sound Reason, Good Understanding, and True Faith, also a key to the Book of Revelations, with Short Notes on the Same, by Samuel Hutchins.

Backing the title page is this:—
"Whereas the author was not favored in the days of his youth, with an opportunity to study English Grammar, his knowledge in that science is imperfect.
He therefore begs that his work may be excused from grammatical criticisms.
But on the point of doctrine, he seeks no shelter from scrutiny; but heartily submits his work to the CANDID, REASONABLE and UNDERSTAND-ING investigation of any man in Christendom.

The book contains 202 pages exclusive of 2 pages of the Oxford book store advertising, of which Asa Barton was proprietor.

The author proposes to write another book should his health permit (which he doubts) the new book will be entitled "A Treatise on the Mighty Conquest, and Successful Reign of JESUS CHRIST: and the Glorious Triumphs of the Redeemer and the Redeemed over SIN, DEATH and HELL."

Under the title of this treatise was published? Who knows?
Look over your attics and see if you have one or any other books or pamphlets printed in Norway prior to 1870.
If you find any let us see them at this office.

WEST BETHEL.

Double Wedding.
A very charming wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. N. Head of West Bethel, when their daughters, Lettie and Lona were united in marriage to Moses Davis of Bethel and Robert Gilbert of Sherbrooke, Canada.

The strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march played by Elsie Davis of Portsmouth, the brides and bridegrooms came at separate doors and met at the altar where a solemn and impressive service conducted by B. F. McKitt took place. The first service being used, Mr. Davis and Miss McCallan were united in marriage first, Lona acting as maid of honor, immediately followed by the marriage of Mr. Gilbert and Lona McCallan.

The two brides were beautifully gowned in white, their gowns being messaline silk trimmed with passementary braid and silk rosebuds. The grooms were also dressed in the usual black.

The room in which the ceremony took place was tastefully decorated with greens and white roses. The couples stood under an arch from which was suspended a huge bell. The diningroom was very attractive with its decorations of evergreens and red roses, the chief feature being the wedding cake in the center of the table.

The refreshments of ice cream, cake, fancy crackers and fruit punch were served to about 60 of their friends and relatives. Great merriment was occasioned by the cutting of the wedding cake by the two brides and which was served by the bridegrooms.

The brides on leaving looked very pretty in their traveling gowns, Mrs.
Davis' being of blue silk with coat to match, and also colored hat with a blue plume. Mrs. Gilbert wore a blue suit with white silk waist and blue hat with white plume.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Woodsum and children of Mechanic Falls visited with relatives and friends the week-end.

Mrs. O. W. Brown is receiving a visit from her son, Roy, and family of Berlin, N. H.

Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Tibbets and two children were Sunday guests at the parents, Mr. and Mrs. Augustus Engleman, at Durham.

Edith Fiske visited with relatives at Norway, Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Gaton Abbott are receiving a visit from their son and wife, Mr.
and Mrs. John Abbott, of Washington, D. C.

Agnes Campbell was a guest of her parents at Mechanic Falls, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Brown of Bethel called on their mother, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Morton were a guest of friends at Hanover the week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Swan are entertaining relatives from away.

Lester Tibbets visited his mother, Mrs.
E. L. Fickett, at Auburn, over the 4th.

Quite a few from here attended the Sons of Veterans ball at Bryant Pond,

Alice Cross of Lewiston has been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. D.
Crosby.

Theo. Beaulieu visited with his sister, at Berlin, N. H., Saturday.

To Magalloway River, Fishing.
A fishing party made up of Col. A. J.
Stearns of Norway and Stanley M. Wheeler, Roy E. Cole and Myron Maxim of South Paris, were out on the Magalloway dam, from there 12 miles by launch to Nason's camp. Then the party took the launch to the Big Eddy and then by row boat to the Magalloway River, the present inlet of which is about 4 miles below its old position.

Rainy weather interfered considerably with the pleasure of the party, but did not prevent their catching about fifty fish. Colonel Stearns caught a 2 1/2 lb. trout and Stanley Wheeler got his feet water and a large which, somehow managed to get back into the lake. Although fishing was good there were about as many fishermen as fish. The party left Wednesday p. m., and got back Saturday.

We forget to say Wm. J. Wheeler was with the party and found some difficulty in "snubbing" the fish after they rose to a fly.

WEST BROWNFIELD.
Our mail carrier, W. W. Johnson, is using his automobile on the road, and although his route is a very hard one for any car his machine is taking him over it satisfactorily.

VOTERS, ATTENTION.

Somerville, Mass., June 27, 1914.
Editor of Norway Advertiser:
I notice that the polls were not opened in the town of Hanover on primary election day. At least it is reported in your paper, and the reason given is forgetfulness in preparing or posting the warrant so that it was not up in the required time before the election.

I wish to say that the late Hon. Herbert M. Heath of Augusta, commenting on a similar instance in eastern Maine, once told me that that was no excuse for not holding the election. Mr. Heath went so far as to say that he would like to have as a client any voter who discovered such failure to prepare and post the warrant for he would find it an easy matter to procure a mandamus compelling the holding of the election.

Mr. Heath asserted that the State Constitution guarantees the right of the ballot to every eligible person who will make the prescribed effort. A failure to prepare or post the warrant, he declared, is no neglect on the part of the voter and does not deprive him of his rights. He went on to say that the failure to prepare or post the warrant is punishable according to law, and that after a man has laid himself thus liable it is unwise to make another mistake by failure to hold the election, and that instead, it is his duty to try to remedy the first mistake, and one ought not to commit a second mistake by failing to hold the election. He also said that a man who applies at the proper time and place for the right to vote can sue for damages if he is denied that right. To back up these statements, Mr. Heath mentioned several decisions of the Maine Law Court in which the vote was held to be valid, and the voter's rights were protected, despite informalities or irregularities on the part of some officials.

At the time that Mr. Heath made these statements, he was generally understood to be the ablest counsel among the lawyers of Maine, and his words on a matter like that would carry a great deal of weight. Not being a lawyer, I will not venture any opinion of my own upon such a matter as that. I would, however, if the court should make a decision contrary to Mr. Heath's opinion.

It should be understood that these remarks do not apply to town meetings held for purely local purposes. In case the proper officers fail to call such meetings as required by law, a process is provided for getting one called by petitioning to qualified officers other than the town officers.

Hoping that none of my Oxford county friends will feel that I am "butting" in by writing this letter, I am Truly yours
D. CROMBIE CLARK.

Women Everywhere

Praise Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Women from the Atlantic to the Pacific, from all sections of this great country, no city so large, no village so small but that some woman has written words of thanks for health restored by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. No woman who is suffering from the ills peculiar to her sex should rest until she has given this famous remedy a trial. Is it not reasonable to believe that what it did for these women it will do for any sick woman?

Wonderful Case of Mrs. Stephenson, on the Pacific Coast.

INDEPENDENCE, OREGON.—"I was sick with what four doctors called Nervous Prostration, was treated by them for several years, would be better for a while then back in the old way again. I had palpitation of the heart very bad, fainting spells, and was so nervous that a spoon dropping to the floor would nearly kill me, could not lift the lightest weight without making me sick; in fact was about as sick and miserable as a person could be. I saw your medicines advertised and thought I would try them, and am so thankful I did for they helped me at once. I took about a dozen bottles of Lydia E.
Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and also used the Sanative Wash.
Since then I have used them whenever I felt sick. Your remedies are the only doctor I employ. You are at liberty to publish this letter."—Mrs. W. STEPHENSON, Independence, Oregon.

A Grateful Atlantic Coast Woman.

HODGSON, ME.—"I feel it a duty I owe to all suffering women to tell what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound did for me. One

PEWTER IN STYLE.

Pewter is again to the fore. If you have any available pieces, assemble them and if necessary repair and polish them.

The most artistic pieces of pewter, says the Washington Herald, are those which were designed when the makers of it were least conscious of the art revealed, thinking more of the durability and appropriateness to the purpose of the articles than of their decorative qualities.

Thus they have a grace of line not often seen on more showy metals, and often an individuality entirely their own.

FRYEBURG.

The Secret of Success

Genuine Merit Required to Win the People's Confidence.

Have you ever stopped to reason why it is that so many products that are extensively advertised, all at once drop out of sight and are soon forgotten?

The reason is plain—the article did not fulfill the promises of the manufacturer. This applies more particularly to a medicine.

A medicinal preparation that has real curative value almost sells itself, as the evidence of its effectiveness is so apparent.

Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, a preparation I have sold for many years and never hesitate to recommend, for in almost every case it shows excellent results, as many of my customers testify.

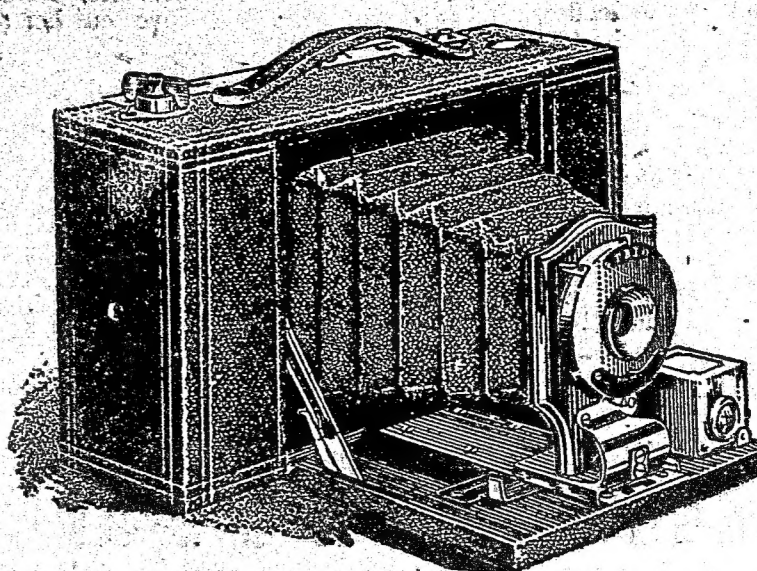

No other kidney remedy that I know of has so large a sale.

According to sworn statements and verified testimony of thousands who have used the preparation, the success of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is due to the fact that it fulfills almost every wish in overcoming kidney, liver and bladder diseases, corrects urinary troubles and neutralizes the uric acid which causes rheumatism.

You may receive a sample bottle of Swamp-Root by Parcel Post. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., and enclose ten cents; also mention the Norway Weekly Oxford Co. Advertiser.

BRYANT POND.
Howe-Millett.
A simple but pretty wedding was solemnized by the Rev. E. H. Stover, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Billings, Bryant Pond, Sunday afternoon, July 5th, when Leith O. Millett became the bride of Edwin E. Howe.

The bride was prettily gowned in white embroidered voile and wore pink rose buds in her hair. The groom wore a suit of dark blue.

They were attended by two little nieces of the bride, Dorothea Billings and Thura Brown, as ring bearers, the double ring service being used.

Mrs. Howe is the daughter of Frank M. Millett of Woodstock formerly, but now of Worcester, Mass., but has lived in the home of Mrs. Anna R. Billings since three years of age, her mother having died at that time, and has filled the place of a daughter and sister. She spent the year 1913 in Albuquerque, New Mexico, returning in November. She is well known and liked in this community.

Mr. Howe is the son of John Howe of this place and a graduate of Woodstock High school, class 1912, being the first graduate after the High school was established. He is a member of the male quartette, and popular among the young people.

They will both be missed from our little village and we wish them happiness and all success in their business as the new proprietors of Norway bakery.

They left on the afternoon train amid a shower of rice for their new home in Norway.
